EDGE MARKER

This 15mm applicator is perfect for dyeing edges. Fill with your favorite spirit, oil or water based dye and use like a Magic Marker. Replace the cap after use and it's ready to go for the next project, even if it's months later. It's fast, easy and eliminates the risk of accidents with dripping daubers and open dye bottles. Internal valve controls flow of dye to nib. You'll want one for each color you use. Nibs are replaceable. Manufactured in Germany. This is simply the best edge dye applicator made! $15.00 ea

EDGE MAGIC

Apply directly to the leather, then burnish. I like it best when used with cocobolo burnishers on a Dremmel, Freedom or the Cobra Burnisher. It also works very well when burnishing by hand with canvas. Apply it to the dry leather edge with a small wool dauber. Allow it soak in a little, but burnish before it dries. As with all solutions I frequently apply and burnish twice to get the results I'm looking for. Can be dyed or oiled through. Contains water soluble waxes. 4oz. $6 ea / 8oz. $12 ea / 16oz. $24 ea

CANVAS MITT

Made of 18oz cotton duck canvas, this mitt is perfect for hand burnishing edges by hand. Especially effective when burnishing with saddle soap. Lasts for years! One size fits all. $10.00 ea

CREATING WESTERN FLORAL DESIGNS

If, like me, you were standing in the wrong line when they passed out drawing skills, then this book will help! The focus is on utilizing the unlimited design elements we all are familiar with and arranging them in a balanced and pleasing tooling pattern. In it's 86 pages, I provide example illustrations and photos as I describe, step by step, the method I use for creating new designs. I like to think of it as a "mechanical approach" pattern design. In addition, I have included a few sample patterns, some basic design elements and a gallery inspiring photos of work by some very talented friends. I even found a spot to feature a few photos of my own! $45.00 ea
